

Career & Transition Services

I am extremely happy with Benhaven's Career & Transition Services program, including all the team members who make it work! Moving forward, I see us working together for a very long time! – AG, Parent

WHAT WE DO

Benhaven is a career and transition provider that focuses on services and supports in the communities where people live, in post-secondary education, developing the interests of the people served and through meaningful employment to promote productive careers. Programs for individuals are shaped through a continuous collaborative person-centered framework involving parents, school district, outside agencies, staff, and the student.

SERVICES

Benhaven provides services for students ages 18-22 and post-secondary individuals with a disability entering the workforce, colleges, and trade schools. We support people on their path to a successful career and to people who need it long term by:

- Assessing career interests and exploration
- Exploration and support of college or certification programs
- Tutoring services
- Life-long learning in areas of interest and need
- Independent living and consumer skills
- Developing self-advocacy skills
- Increasing their independent and personal living skills
- Accessing transportation
- Personal independence
- Establishing and sustaining relationships and adhering to social norms
- Assessment of work skills and behaviors
- Pre-employment skills including resume writing, job search, job applications and interview skills
- Job Development and job maintenance
- Job coaching
- Customized employment

This highly individualized support has a significant impact on helping young adults develop confidence and independence. Individuals participating in our program learn to become active members of their community in a social and vocational way, while honing their self-advocacy and independent living skills.
